Make Every Day a Day of Thanksgiving

If you stop and think about it for a while, you will discover that Thanksgiving is a unique holiday that occurs every day throughout the year, so, why do we try to pack all of our thanksgiving into one day, when it is impossible to overlook God's many blessings to us throughout the year? In the midst of our daily walk with God, have we forgotten that we are blessed?

Have you been blessed? If you woke up this morning, able to see the sunrise... then, you are blessed with sight.

Have you been blessed? If today you heard all of nature sing, the children laugh, your spouse say good morning and I love you, or, even if you heard, the neighbor's dogs barking, the children arguing with each other, “the toast is burning!”...then, you are blessed with hearing and a family.

Have you been blessed? If you woke up in your own house, or shack, not in a hospital room hooked up to machines of every description...you have been blessed with health, and if you are in the hospital and reading this, you are blessed.

Have you been blessed? If today you can plan the future, and find that although you have to squeeze by financially, you still have each other and a strong relationship with God... you are blessed with a miracle.

We are blessed, and no matter what the circumstances, we have a lot to be thankful for this year. We could be on the streets of Greenville, today, wandering out into the darkness; we could be lost and without God in our lives, headed blindly towards total destruction! We could be bound by the chains of addiction without love or affection; we could be all alone; we could be addicted to drugs and alcohol—full of diseases both physically and spiritually: but God rescued us when we turned to him.

He picked me up in spite of the mistakes that I had made that only left me with a broken spirit and a shattered life. He found treasure that I could not see, because my vision was clouded with the onslaught of failures that would have claimed my soul if it weren't for Jesus. Thankfully, he saw through my failures and took a marred vessel and began to fashion it into his image: a vessel of honor. He loved me even when I was at my worst. While I was learning to trust him on my journey through to victory, I saw many people who came to Jesus, and then, sadly, I said goodbye to many people who turned back to the world.

I watched some people die without God, and others who moved forward to do great things through Christ. In this place, you'll find Jesus Christ will never ever fail you; for no matter how great the sacrifice you are called to make; his love is greater. “The joy of the Lord is our strength.”

“Therefore I take pleasure in infirmities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's sake: for when I am weak, then am I strong” (2 Corinthians 12:10) • We are blessed, and that is why, when all goes wrong—we can still have joy; we can still have a song. Jesus loves me this I know, for the bible tells me so gm

“Therefore I say unto you,
What things soever ye desire,
when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them” (Mark 11:24).

GIVING THANKS:

BLESSING LEFTOVERS. A young minister sitting down to dinner was about to say Grace when he opened the casserole dish that his thrifty bride had prepared from all of the refrigerator leftovers.

"I don't know," he said dubiously, "but it seems to me that I've blessed all this stuff

BE STILL MY HEART: An acquaintance of mine -- who is a physician -- told this story about her then-four-year-old daughter.
On the way to preschool, the doctor had left her stethoscope on the car seat, and her little girl picked it up and began playing with it.
Be still, my heart, thought my friend... my daughter wants to follow in my footsteps!
Then the child spoke into the instrument, "Welcome to McDonald's. May I take your order?"

Until next time, Willie
