“I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life”

It is as if all of this time, the Lord has been waiting for me to realize that he is with me. Having that revelation has brought a peace in my life that can't be adequately explained unless you have actually experienced it. Even though there are times that Satan tries to attack my flesh with illness, I can overcome it through the blood of Jesus Christ, he says in John 14:6, that he is the Way, the Truth, and the Life. He is the way through all sicknesses and despair. He has gone before us in every circumstance that we must endure. Going through it will help us to be strong and more equipped to fight the enemy with the word of our testimony.

When I don't see the results of my prayers, it is hard to proclaim that I am healed, but I know that no matter how it looks on the outside, the Lord is working all things for my good. There will be times that the enemy will try to implant doubt and fear in our lives. He has always been an accuser of the brethren. It is his mission, if you will, to “steal, to kill, and to destroy,” and doesn't he try to do that on a daily basis? He can't destroy me, however, because I have read that the Lord is no respecter of persons, and that if he healed in his day, he is obligated by his Word to heal, in 2014. The real question is, can I have enough faith to believe God and stop listening to Satan's lies that tell me that I can't, or won't ever be healed? They say that RA is incurable, but they don't know my God. If he created everything, nothing is impossible for him! I'm not my own; my everything belongs to Jesus Christ. I am his daughter, so it's only a matter of time.

There is nothing too hard for God, he is sovereign. He will decide when I've had enough of this limitation in my life, and if and when he is ready, it will be gone in Jesus name, forever. Blessed be the name of the Lord. In the meantime, yet, I will praise him for his mercy and his peace. He gives strength to me, when I lift my hands in praise. I will let my lips be filled with praise. I will not be defeated, I may not be able to walk as fast as I used to, but I praise God that I am walking! I may have pain in my joints, but I praise God that I am able to do his will.

This affliction has taught me to be thankful for the every day and mundane. I am truly blessed. Don't feel sorry for me, I will continue to keep a smile on my face as much as possible, if for no other good reason: I have been redeemed by the blood of the Lamb. It won't be long that the Lord is going to completely heal me, but until that happens, I have much work to do. I will not spend my time moaning and complaining about how bad I have it. I don't even think about it much of the time, because there is no time to dwell on something that is only temporary. We have a harvest to reap and there will be time to pour out my defeat, but not today. Not this year. It is the year that we Impact Greenville. There is nothing that God and I can't handle in 2014. Thank you for joining us this morning. God has promised that all things work together for good to those who love and serve Him faithfully (Romans 8:28). It may be difficult for us to see and understand how this is accomplished at times, but God has promised it, and He will deliver. From <http://www.bible.ca/d-7promises-god.htm>

Willie's Korner

The church was badly in need of a coat of paint. So the pastor decided he'd do the job himself. But all he had was one bucket of paint. So he got a bunch of buckets and some water, and he thinned the paint enough to cover the entire church. Then he spent all day painting. That night it rained—very hard—and washed all the paint off. The pastor was quite discouraged and asked God, 'Why...why God, did you let it rain and wash off all my hard work?'

To which God thundered his reply, 'Repaint! Repaint! And thin no more!'

The Lesson here is: Take the time to do your best the first time, and you won't need to do it over.

Until next time, Willie
