Don't Lose Hope; God's Not Finished Yet

“By him therefore let us offer the sacrifice of praise
to God continually,
that is, the fruit
of our lips
giving thanks to his name.
But to do good and to communicate forget not: for with such sacrifices God is well pleased.
(Hebrews:15-16).

“Now faith is the substance of things hoped for,
the evidence of things not yet seen” (Hebrews 11:1).

Did you miss a Lattereign?
It's now being published online at lattereign7.wordpress.com

On the corner of 11th and Forbes there was a church that stood as a lighthouse on a stormy night when I first moved to Greenville, NC. I found the missing part of myself in this building, but it was more than the building; it was a family of prayer warriors who weren't afraid to trust God and call on his name in prayer. The house is filled in the picture above; people are standing in the prayer room, and the sides are opened to hold the crowds for the 16th Church Anniversary.

Much has happened since that time; the Lord has blessed us with a new building at 2950 South Memorial Drive; but one thing has not changed: people who have been in this truth since the beginning have not lost hope. We see that the Lord has done great things in the past, but he is by far not finished yet.

It doesn't matter if you have been following Christ for forty plus years, or if you are just beginning your journey, this morning; Forever the Lord's word is settled in heaven, and he has promised us a mighty outpouring of his Spirit on all flesh. We must complete this race. We must continue to contend for the faith because there is a precious promise that the Lord will not withhold from his children. Whatever you may be facing on your journey, remember that God is in control. Don't lose hope; he is not finished yet. -gm

The Old Violin The Touch of the Masters Hand

'Twas battered and scarred,
And the auctioneer thought it hardly worth his while To waste his time on the old violin,
but he held it up with a smile.

"What am I bid, good people", he cried,
"Who starts the bidding for me?"
"One dollar, one dollar, Do I hear two?"
"Two dollars, who makes it three?"
"Three dollars once, three dollars twice, going for three,"

But, No,
From the room far back a gray bearded man
Came forward and picked up the bow,
Then wiping the dust from the old violin
And tightening up the strings,
He played a melody, pure and sweet
As sweet as the angel sings.

The music ceased and the auctioneer
With a voice that was quiet and low,
Said "What now am I bid for this old violin?"
As he held it aloft with its' bow.

"One thousand, one thousand,
Do I hear two?"
"Two thousand, Who makes it three?"
"Three thousand once,
three thousand twice,
Going and gone," said he.

The audience cheered,
But some of them cried,
"We just don't understand."
"What changed its' worth?"
Swift came the reply.

"The Touch of the Masters Hand."

"And many a man with life out of tune
All battered and bruised with hardship
Is auctioned cheap to a thoughtless crowd
Much like that old violin

A mess of pottage, a glass of wine,
A game and he travels on.
He is going once, he is going twice,
He is going and almost gone.

But the Master comes,
And the foolish crowd never can quite understand,
The worth of a soul and the change that is wrought
By the Touch of the Masters' Hand.
