Finding Treasure in the Valley

I wanted to stay in the garden, Lord,
Where peace and joy could be found;
A place where I could just be myself
A place where your love would abound.

But, instead, you led me to the valley
where while the storms raged
I wandered through the darkness,
Seeking your help, yet fearing the unknown.

Then, as my desperate prayers pierced the night sky,
the light found its way through the shadows.
My pleas for mercy were made in the valley,
In that place, your grace was sufficient for me.

“And he said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me” (2 Corinthians 12:9). Life doesn't always give us a well laid out path to follow. There will be times when the rugged terrain will slow down our progress, or make us slip and stumble. We can have comfort in knowing that Jesus understands our struggles and he is faithful to help us to overcome them if we will learn to trust him.

Yes, we all want to stay in the garden because it is a paradise. Because of the fall of man, it's impossible to stay in the garden. We must go to the valley no matter how reluctant we are to go. The valley is one of the most dreaded places to be, and yet, when we go to the valley we grow more spiritually. I am thankful that the Lord gave us valleys. It's not that I enjoy the suffering that takes place in the valley, but it's more that I know the Lord will use my valleys to teach me to trust him for my daily bread.

He paid the price, and we gain the benefits. That doesn't seem fair to me, but he is God, and who am I to argue with God? We must prepare the way, and make ready for Jesus' grand entrance into our lives. We invite you to enter his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise, as we worship Him in Spirit and in Truth. Thank you for taking the time to be here to worship with us.. -gm

"...if my people, who are called by my name, will humble themselves and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven, and I will forgive their sin and will heal their land."
