Scriptures to Live By

“And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.”

Having Done All, Stand

I never really noticed, but this was the last thing Sis. Grace put in her last Lattereign issue on October 18, 2020. And you know about God's perfect timing, I really needed to notice this particular poem this week. It was a blessing to me; I hope it's a blessing to you also. -wm

Stand

Fiery trials rage
on the mountains
you must climb;
Your praise
confines you
day after day;
Victory after victory
slips past you
each time you pray.
Sorrow's your company
pain is your relief.
The hint of rains tease you in
the time of drought;
nothing changes
in the wilderness nor
in your pangs of doubt.
When you're discouraged and
your hope begins to wane
and all the world's mocking becomes too much to take;
you doubt God's promises and
your shield of faith breaks.
When living takes the life
from every joy that you have left:
Lift up
your hands and Stand.

Stand still and know that he is God.
Stand therefore with your loins girt about with truth.
His grace is sufficient and his promises are true
You'll see his glory, soon, if you faint not.
