Writers Use Words That Speak

"My heart is inditing a good matter: I speak of the things which I have made touching the king: my tongue is the pen of a ready writer." (Psalm 45:1)

It is true. I, like Grace before me, speak with my pen. That's what writers try to do. It is up to the reader to determine if there is a message to give. God's word is forever settled in heaven. A person's word can be a binding contract, and we trust in a word from a friend.

Words. They can cut you, or they can bind up your wounds. They can encourage you to grow stronger in the Lord, or they can be the weapons that tear you down. A word from a loved one can be as precious gold or as the venom of a snake if it is spoken in anger. Years after a word has been spoken we often hear it again—it plays like an audio-tape in our minds. Why is it that we never get tired of hearing people tell us that we are special? Think about the conversations you've engaged in or words you've typed to people during the past week. The words you spoke or wrote (even if you've forgotten the details of that conversation) are still traveling in space or forever written in one's mind.

Words. The Bible is full of words. Great words. "Death and life are in the power of the tongue: and they that love it shall eat the fruit thereof." (Proverbs 18:21) "He that keepeth his mouth keepeth his life: but he that openeth wide his lips shall have destruction." (Proverbs 13:3) "Pleasant words are as an honeycomb, sweet to the soul, and health to the bones." (Proverbs 16:24) "But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment. For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned." (Matthew 12:36-37)

Words. They run together and they're well intentioned. They could lose effectiveness if they're kept inside your mind for too long; released too soon...words may not be received.

Words. They can move mountains. Speak peace over troubled seas. Confirm a promise. Underline a need. Agree in prayer. Lift up the brethren. Destroy a friendship. Rebuild a friendship. Drive away a sinner. Draw in a new convert. Complete the hungering soul. Lead you to the Truth.

Words. How I long to devour them; to tame the tongue that utters them; to have wisdom to know when to refrain from using them; to lift them up in praise and worship to the One who loves me; to offer them up in prayer and thanksgiving to the Healer; to ask forgiveness of the One who bought it.

Words. I write them without knowing where they'll lead me. By faith, I trust they'll lead me to the Lord: the Great I Am, the One who is all-powerful, the Keeper of my future. Words. I can't imagine not ever hearing, writing, or reading the Words. Jesus spoke them for all eternity at Calvary: "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do." (Luke 23:34)

"Hear me now therefore, O ye children, and depart not from the words of my mouth." (Proverbs 5:7)-gm/wm

Scriptures to live by

"Oh that my words were now written! Oh that they were printed in a book! That they were graven with an iron pen and lead in the rock forever! For I know that my redeemer liveth, and that he shall stand at the latter day upon the earth:" (Job 19:23-25)

Purpose and Power

God is doing it!

Acts 1:8 "But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth."

Let's be a witness. Let's be a soul winner. Let's be a prayer warrior. Let's be a bible study teacher. Let's do the work and the will of God!
