The Hope of Today

"Hast thou not known? Hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? There is no searching of his understanding. He giveth power to the faint; and to them that have no might he increaseth strength. Even the youths shall faint and be weary, and the young men shall utterly fall: But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength, they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk and not faint" (Isaiah 40:28-31).

Have we forgotten the God that we serve? There is nothing impossible with God. No situation is out of His control. When the storms come, we must learn to trust Him. Maybe you have forgotten or you are so overwhelmed with the pain and frustration that you can't see God at work through the turmoil. When I face the storm, I find him in my prayers. Sometimes, I don't even know how to pray because I am so consumed with the problem, but if I'll remember to worship Him, I know He will begin to work out His perfect plan in my life. Keep moving towards the light of His presence.

In my darkest times, I find Him embracing me. I shall not fear the darkness. Although every sign tells me that it's hopeless, I still hold on to hope that He is sovereign and that He has already answered my prayer even before I speak the problem in prayer. It takes time. When I feel so impatient waiting for Your promise, Lord, calm me down enough that I enjoy the day that You have prepared. Take me back to simplicity, life before schedules and deadlines, when we'd catch lightening bugs in the backyard and put them in mason jars. I miss it, and yet I thank You for today.

I have not been promised tomorrow, and yesterday is just a memory. The only thing that I desire from You is another today. A moment in time. Now. In my now let me not miss opportunities to share to someone about Your goodness. Jesus Christ: His mercy endureth forever. Life is too short to spend lamenting over what might have been or what might become. Let me live in the now. The hope of today. Today, the day of salvation. "This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it." (Psalm 118:24) -gm/wm

Although every sign tells me that it's hopeless, I still hold on to hope that He is Sovereign and that He has already answered my prayer even before I pray. It takes time.
